WELCOME

Welcome to the annual Hampshire PE Conference!

After the success of last year, we are excited about being able to hold our conference as a hybrid event again, and hope that it runs smoothly for all those involved. We are pleased that so many of you have been able to join us this year, as we appreciate the challenges surrounding being released from school.

This year's focus of mental health and well-being is currently so significant in schools and I would like to thank the key note speakers, panel representatives and workshop presenters who will be supporting our event today. We have an exciting programme of workshops and speakers which will equip school teachers and PE leads with the resources, ideas and inspiration to create a curriculum that is supportive and encouraging to all students. This event wouldn't be able to be successful without their support and passion for physical education.

A huge thank you must also go to Energise Me, Public Health Hampshire and IOW, and the volunteers on our PE Conference board who provide ongoing support to the event.

Finally thank you to all of you working in schools, for your hard work and enthusiasm to keep PE, Physical Activity and School Sport at the forefront of the curriculum.

We hope you enjoy the event.

KEYNOTES

Dr Kristy Howells - Heath and the role of PE

Kristy Howells is Director of Physical Education at Canterbury Christ Church University. She specialises in Physical Development, Early Years and Physical Education and aims to inspire and motivate the next generation of primary school teachers to be the best of the best at teaching Physical Education.

When not lecturing or researching, Kristy can often be found on wheels either skating on 8 wheels or riding on two wheels! She always wanted to be a role model in sport and still compete at national and international levels.

Kristy has been awarded the University's Teaching Excellence award twice (2012 and 2022) for outstanding teaching and learning, as well as authored, and co-authored many publications on the topic of Physical Education.

Sue Wilkinson MBE (afPE)

Sue became the Association for Physical Education (afPE) Strategic Lead in 2011. She has authored and co-authored several publications and in 2016 became the Chief Executive Officer of the Association, and received an MBE for her services to Education in 2016. The role involves leading afPE (the only subject association for physical education, school sport and physical activity in the UK) to support the workforce, members, lobby to raise the profile of the subject and to improve outcomes for children and young people in all educational settings.
